

Biographical Information for

Dr. Tammy Wong

Dr. Tammy Wong's professional career spans over 25 years of sales, marketing, and strategy experience. She is known for her demonstrated leadership abilities and her commitment to foster leadership in others. Currently she sets the direction and strategy for the Global Partner Sales Organization of Sun Microsystems.

In addition to her strategy role, Tammy is the President of the Women's Organization at Sun which includes worldwide membership with over 2000 members. In 2005, she earned her PhD in Organization and Management with an emphasis in Leadership. Her doctoral dissertation was on "Fostering Executive Leadership in Women."

Prior to joining Sun Microsystems, Dr. Wong worked for Xerox Corporation for 10 years in numerous leadership roles, her last position was Manager of the Marketing Operations and Services Organization. In this senior level role she provided executive oversight, guidance and control for the company's largest organization in all of North America. She has held other positions in sales, marketing, and systems engineering with IBM, Datapoint, and Data General.

Dr. Wong's extensive education includes a B.S. in Economics from St. Mary's College, an MBA from Pepperdine University, and a PhD from Capella University.

Tammy has served on the boards of several not for profit organizations and is a member of a select group of executive women who meet regularly to discuss leadership and business issues. She resides in Irvine, California with her family and is active in her community.